Interview at Grimsby Institute of FHE for Diversity Support Officer - easily spotted the winning candidate. Feedback later today was they could not fault the interview but said the winning candidate spoke additionally about a "business model" for equality and diversity when I was not even asked such a question and, indeed, emphasis to me in my interview that the job was mainly routine and not mainly the variety of ideas wanted from talent as suggested in the first presentation to the candidates - web design. main issues for equality and diversity for the "department" (and not a "company" as the first person mentioned - thus why a business model?).

As a result, K. Wadkin to get availability regarding me and teaching (Select Education).
